

Traver Troubles

94 miles east of Hugoton.

Paul Traver came back from Friendswood, Texas, where he had been attending school since last fall. He says that he had a nice time and that he likes Texas fine. But he thinks that Western Kansas is a little better than any place that he has seen so far. Wonder if it is the country or the girls!

Well, the farmers are busy listing or disking. How we all enjoy farming once again, the ground is in such fine shape.

L. S. Curry found some of his horses that strayed away during the winter storms up near Syracuse. The others have not yet been found.

The Cunningham Bros. are busy putting down a well on John Traver's claim.

The Stevens county cream union has not completed their organization yet. It seems that some do not want to ship their cream away, but prefer to sell their cream in Liberal where it can be tested and paid for.

On Monday night the young folks called on Paul Traver as a surprise. They had a jolly time playing games. Ice cream was served, and midnight came before they were ready for it. Paul says: "Come again".

There will be four public sales this week. Doubtless we shall have a dearth of them from now on as it is getting late in the season for sales.

Do you know that the assessor is looking for you?

Stevens county is planning to have a weeks movable cooking school with an instructress from Manhattan this summer.

Centerville.

W. O. Nelson and family expect to move from this vicinity to Hugoton about April First. Mr. Nelson has leased the Hamby livery barn at that place. As a farewell expression of friendship about seventy men, women and children assembled at the Nelson homestead Wednesday night of last week. It was a complete surprise to the family. The older people spent the evening visiting, while the young people played outdoor games. About eleven o'clock the guests served up the lunch which they had brought. Near the hour of midnight they departed expressing the desire that their friendship might extend to the Nelson family in their new home.

J. O. Hanner and family were in Liberal one day last week.

The farmers are busy sowing oats, cultivating wheat and building fence.
